Hi Deldi,

Happy Monday! FYI- just keeping you in the loop on this. I haven't received anything from DTSC yet, but seems that Noemi would like a more formal approach. Nothing for you to do, just wanted to keep you in the loop.

BTW- Ill be in Oakland at the Cypress Mandela Center Graduation on March 3, staying over in Oakland and having a morning meeting with Art Shank, the Executive Director on the 4th.

Take care,

Roger

Hi Roger - what I prepared for my management for DTSC was the workforce development specific information, which is my specialty. Since my management informed me that our Associate Director would be sharing that information it might be best to let the information come directly from your management. I'm happy to discuss with you more on Wednesday when you are in our offices.

Hi Noemi,

Sorry if this request is duplicative. What was explained to me is that EPA requested a meeting with DTSC, which I believe occurred today. I understand it is about the Exide project and funding and not specifically about this aspect of the project. I have not seen any documentation yet. Yes, I am the project lead on the DTSC Workforce Development effort currently. I was just asking about specific contacts for the LA area if you wouldn't mind emailing these before our call later this week.

Thanks Noemi,
Kind regards,
Roger

Hi Roger - I provided all that information to my management earlier, who they indicated they were working with DTSC directly on this issue. Have you not seen that info? Are you the point of contact on this effort for DTSC?

Good afternoon Noemi,
In advance of our call this week, would you have contacts for Los Angeles that would be helpful in providing environmental health & safety training and life skills training? Also, for the Exide communities of Vernon, Maywood, Commerce, etc we are looking to reach out to various resources for accessing potential student participants. Would you have suggestions for these?
It is my understanding that Los Angeles was formerly one of the Brownfield Showcase Communities nationally.
Thank you Noemi!
Kindly,
Roger
